The Basin Plan

- Also known as a Water Quality Control Plan, which are the key regulatory documents governing water quality in each hydrologic region of the state, much like a city's general plan.

- It designates beneficial uses and water quality objectives for waters of the State, including surface waters and groundwater.

- Estimated Cost of Compliance $20 Billion.

SB 1133 (Portantino)

- BizFed Sponsored Legislation Authored by Senator Anthony Portantino that would allow permittees to donate funds to the State and Regional Water Boards for the purpose of updating the basin plan.
State Auditor Report on State & Regional Water Boards

A recent report, released in March of 2018, provided by the California State Auditor, Elaine M. Howle on the State and Regional Water Boards, finds:

- The Regional Boards Have Not Adequately Considered the Cost of Implementing Pollution Control Requirements.
- The State Water Board and Regional Boards Have Established Some Pollutant Control Plans Without Seeking Key Information, Resulting in Unnecessary Costs for Local Jurisdictions.
- Los Angeles Used Inaccurate Information When Developing and Implementing Certain Pollutant Limits.

Why Measure W Still Doesn’t Make the Cut

1. Over this 2 year process - no real facts or numbers were released until the last 3 months, ultimately limiting stakeholder input.
2. A forever parcel tax with no dusk clause
3. Has no commitment to projects or objectives
4. Overburdensome re-certification credit process
5. Inaccurate assessment of impermeable surface area & cost
6. No credit program for cites who have already tax themselves
7. No commitment to support auditors report and recommendations
8. No categorical exemption for national pollutant discharge elimination system (NPDES) permits.

Measure W is A Blank Check with No Promises
Thank You!
