Addressing the Wildfire Crisis: Innovations in Science, Technology and Collaboration

The western United States is suffering from more catastrophic wildfires than ever before. This has significant and detrimental impacts to our water supplies. Projects are urgently needed to improve our watersheds' resilience to wildfire events.

Join us to learn about the latest collaborative strategies, science, and technologies to combat wildfires, protect forests and restore watersheds with leading experts:

Speakers:

- Nick Wobbrook, CCO & Co-Founder of Blue Forest
- JoAnna Lessard, Watershed Manager, Yuba Water Agency
- Erin Woolley, Acting Deputy Director, Sierra Club California
- Brittany Black, Head of Business Management, BurnBot
